

July 19, 2010

Dear Bristol Bay Supporter,

Exciting news! Trout Unlimited's Save Bristol Bay campaign was selected by Savory Thymes (www.savorythymesevents.org) in Mill Valley, CA to be the beneficiary of one of their annual fundraising events later this fall. All proceeds from the event will go directly to Trout Unlimited's efforts to protect one of the world's premier sport fishing destinations from the proposed Pebble Mine (www.savebristolbay.org). In order to make this event a success though, we need your help. That's why we're seeking sponsors for this Save Bristol Bay fundraiser and we hope that you'll consider being part of this unique Bristol Bay salmon celebration.

Some of the things that we'll be using your contribution for include:

- flying in National Geographic photographer Michael Melford to share his images from Bristol Bay in the upcoming December National Geographic issue
- bringing in internationally-celebrated author and director, Bill Carter, to share his personal accounts from Bristol Bay
- printing and mailing of all event invites, which will include all sponsor logos.

A little bit can go a long way, so we are thankful for whatever contribution your business deems appropriate. The more that we can offset the associated costs for this event, then the more money we can ensure goes directly to our on-the-ground efforts to stop the Pebble Mine and Save Bristol Bay.

We thank you for your time and consideration and for that all you do to protect wild fish and their habitat. We couldn't do what we do without your support.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Dubovsky
WhyWild Program Director, Trout Unlimited
edubovsky@tu.org
907.586.2588